The History and Significance of Veterans Day

On Saturday, November 11th, citizens across the United States will celebrate Veterans Day with gratitude toward the men and women who have bravely and selflessly served our country. In conjunction with celebrating this important day, here are some facts about its history and significance. To all those who have served, we humbly thank you for your service, and Happy Veterans Day to you!

Veterans Day is a U.S. holiday that honors veterans of all wars.

In 1918, during World War I, on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, hostilities ceased between the Allied nations and Germany. The cessation was marked by many countries as Armistice Day. The Treaty of Versailles, which marked the end of the war, was signed on June 28, 1919, but the armistice date was the one that most people considered the end of the conflict.

In November of 1919, Armistice Day was marked by many countries. The observance included parades, public celebrations, and pauses to both business and school activities when the clock struck 11 am.

In June of 1926, Congress passed a resolution that November 11th should be commemorated each year. As of May 13, 1938, Armistice Day became a legal Federal holiday.

Changes were still abound, however. During World War II, more than 16 million Americans served in the Army, Air Force, Marines, and Navy. Another 5.7 million served in the Korean war. This spurred Veterans service organizations to lobby for the words Veterans Day to replace the words Armistice Day in honor of the American veterans of all wars. In 1954, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed legislation for the name to be changed.

The day would still see some changes. As of 1971, Veterans Day was moved to the fourth Monday in October. This followed Congress passing the Uniform Holidays Bill that brought about the celebration of four national holidays on Mondays. As of 1978, due to many states' confusion and disapproval over the change, the holiday was moved back to its original observance date. It continues to be held on that date.

What is the difference between Veterans Day and Memorial Day? It is a common question. Memorial Day, celebrated in May, is dedicated to Americans who have served and who passed away while—or as a result of—serving. Veterans Day honors all Veterans, alive and those who have passed.

Thanksgiving Football!

Thanksgiving Day football games in the United States are nearly as old as the game—and the organized holiday—themselves. The first Thanksgiving Day football game took place in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving Day of 1869, less than two weeks after Rutgers defeated Princeton in New Brunswick, New Jersey in what is widely considered to have been the first American Football game, and only six years after Abraham Lincoln declared the first fixed national Thanksgiving holiday in 1863. On November 17, 1869, the Evening Telegraph newspaper of Philadelphia published the following announcement: "Foot Ball: A foot-ball match between twenty-two players of the Young America Cricket Club and the Germantown Cricket Club will take place on Thanksgiving Day at 12 1/2 o'clock, on the grounds of the Germantown Club." [1] The proximity of Philadelphia to both Rutgers and Princeton invites speculation that this game may have been played under similar rules and perhaps involved some of the same participants, or at least people familiar with the game played at Rutgers, and a second match at Princeton, earlier that month. Princeton played Yale in the New York City area on Thanksgiving Day from 1876 through 1881. [2] [3] The Thanksgiving Day football game became an institutionalized fixture of organized football in 1882, when the Intercollegiate Football Association determined to hold an annual collegiate championship game in New York City on Thanksgiving Day between the two leading teams in the association. Previously, the 'Champion' was to be determined by a team's records over the entire season against all members of the association. For at least the three previous years, the championship had been a matter of dispute as a result of Yale and Princeton playing to scoreless ties on three Thanksgiving Day games in a row. [4] On November 25, 1897, American students of the École des Beaux-Arts and the Académie Julian played a game in Paris, France. This is considered the first American football game ever played in Europe. The tradition of playing football games on Thanksgiving continues to this day.

~Thanksgiving~

In the United States, the modern Thanksgiving holiday tradition is traced to a sparsely documented 1621 celebration at Plymouth in present-day Massachusetts, and also to a well recorded 1619 event in Virginia. The 1621 Plymouth feast and thanksgiving was prompted by a good harvest. Pilgrims and Puritans who began emigrating from England in the 1620s and 1630s carried the tradition of Days of Fasting and Days of Thanksgiving with them to New England. The 1619 arrival of 38 English settlers at Berkeley Hundred in Charles City County, Virginia, concluded with a religious celebration as dictated by the group's charter from the London Company, which specifically required "that the day of our ships arrival at the place assigned ... in the land of Virginia shall be yearly and perpetually kept holy as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God." Several days of Thanksgiving were held in early New England history that have been identified as the "First Thanksgiving", including Pilgrim holidays in Plymouth in 1621 and 1623, and a Puritan holiday in Boston in 1631. According to historian Jeremy Bangs, director of the Leiden American Pilgrim Museum, the Pilgrims may have been influenced by watching the annual services of Thanksgiving for the relief of the siege of Leiden in 1574, while they were staying in Leiden. Now called October Fasten, Leiden's autumn thanksgiving celebration in 1617 was the occasion for sectarian disturbance that appears to have accelerated the pilgrims' plans to emigrate to America. Later in Massachusetts, religious thanksgiving services were declared by civil leaders such as Governor Bradford, who planned the colony's thanksgiving celebration and fast in 1623. The practice of holding an annual harvest festival did not become a regular affair in New England until the late 1660s. Thanksgiving proclamations were made mostly by church leaders in New England up until 1682, and then by both state and church leaders until after the American Revolution. During the revolutionary period, political influences affected the issuance of Thanksgiving proclamations. Various proclamations were made by royal governors, John Hancock, General George Washington, and the Continental Congress, each giving thanks to God for events favorable to their causes. As President of the United States, George Washington proclaimed the first nationwide thanksgiving celebration in America marking November 26, 1789, "as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God."
