Alpha Tolbert

June Cole

Alpha Tolbert

June was born in Southern Illinois. She grew up on a small farm and lived there until she was out of school. During that time if one person got the measles the whole family was quarantined.

June played the piano for all events in high school. She enjoyed all sports, especially basketball, when you played one half court.

June worked her way through college even though she had a scholarship, which paid her tuition of $18.00 per quarter. She operated a machine called Vari-Typer which was a follow up of typesetting. She got 75¢ an hour for doing that. June's interest has always been business, especially shorthand.

After finishing college, June replaced her former high school business teacher for one year. She married, and they kept moving west. They were head residence at a men's dorm at Arizona University for three years. Both June and her husband were in education. They worked their way west and settled in Chico. They lived in Chico for forty-eight years.

She taught in the School of Business at CSU Chico for twelve years. June divorced then met her second husband at a dance class. He had retired from rice farming. She has three children from her first marriage and then she had two step children. June now has nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

During retirement June and her husband traveled in their air stream. Her husband was a member of the Escapes. They liked to hike in the mountains, until they met some dogs and decided it wasn't safe anymore.

June played the organ in her church for thirty-five years. She has played for one hundred and twenty-five weddings and many memorial services. At one wedding she had to keep playing and playing because the father of the bride was missing. June also likes to play bridge.

June and her husband decided that they couldn't stay in their home, so her husband is living at the Cal Vet home and June came to River Commons. She has been here three years and she says River Commons is IDEAL.

Thank you, June, for sharing your story.
