In Like a Lion, Out Like a Lamb

Translation? Something that starts quite fiercely can taper off at its end – like March weather.

To celebrate, we take a gander at our favorite sayings.

1. A penny for your thoughts: From John Heywood's 1546 book, The Proverbs of John Heywood. You can also find 'Went in one ear and out the other,' 'No man ought to look a gift horse in the mouth,' and 'Butter would not melt in her mouth.'
2. Add insult to injury: To make an unfortunate situation worse, often with mockery, found in Aesop's Fables (circa 620-560 B.C.).
3. Best thing since sliced bread: A great innovation. (Sliced bread was introduced in 1928 by Otto Frederick Rohwedder, Davenport, Iowa, who invented the first loaf-at-a-time bread slicing machine.)
4. Cut to the chase: The phrase originated in the American film industry when many early movies ended in a chase scene. The first reference is in the script direction of the 1929 film, Hollywood Girl.
5. Desperate times call for desperate measures: When something drastic is needed to make a change, possibly originating with the ancient Greek physician, Hippocrates.

Activity Highlight

The ladies in the picture below are best friends. Ms. Lyda and Ms. Virginia have connected like two high school teenagers. They hang out together by looking after each other, they enjoy lunch together and make sure that they are getting they help they need. This is what we want here at State Street Assisted Living. We love to see relationships like this blossom and it makes us happy to see that our residents are thriving.

Resident Spotlight

Joan Case moved in to our facility almost 2 years ago. Joan is pleasant and loves animals. She is sure to feed the squirrels, birds and most importantly her doggie Molly! She says that Molly was made just for her and that she doesn't know what she'd do without her. Ms. Joan we are glad to have you here with us at State Street Assisted Living.

Employee Spotlight

Samantha is a part of the Activities department. She has been an employee with us for about 2yrs. Samantha brings such art and creativity to our team and also to the residents. When working with the residents Sam is kind and is sure to have a good laugh with them. We appreciate all that you do, thank you for making our community shine.

In Like a Lion

6. Feel a bit under the weather: Traced to maritime sources when sailors who weren't feeling well were sent below deck so that they could get out of the weather.
7. Let sleeping dogs lie: From the 13th Century, it alluded to waking up a fierce watchdog and causing trouble.
8. Method to my madness: Despite a random appearance, there is a formula to reach a conclusion, from Shakespeare's Hamlet in 1602.
9. Piece of cake: Originating in the 1870s when cakes were often handed out as prizes in cakewalks, which were easy competitions to win.

Ever wonder when the very first idiom was used in the English language? 'Your guess is as good as mine!'
