Rachel Gregg

Rachel was born and raised in Rockwell, Indiana. She was the third of four children. Rachel’s mother was not well, so she had to milk cows in 10° below zero weather. She also drove the tractor and killed and dressed chickens.

Rachel graduated from high school in 1942. She worked as a telephone operator for 35¢ an hour. In 1943, she moved to Indianapolis and was an inspector of radio parts that went into airplanes. She made 55¢ an hour and did that for 3 years.

Rachel enjoyed ice skating, roller skating, and bowling. One night at the roller rink she met a sailor from San Francisco. He asked her out to dinner and proposed, but she just laughed. He did the same the next night and she just laughed again. Then he was shipped out and they corresponded for 1 year. When the sailor came back he proposed, and this time, she said yes. They married 2 months later. Her husband repaired cameras for Eastman Kodak Co.

They have a daughter who lives in Redding and is getting ready to open her third restaurant with her husband. He is featured on Food Network. They also have a son who lives in Seattle. Rachel’s grandson is undersheriff of Redding. Rachel has 12 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild.

Rachel and her husband got their license for foster care. They took babies that were 2 days old and Rachel got to give them names. She calls herself a professional mother. In 1964, they adopted an 11-year-old boy from Korea. He now lives in Berkeley.

In 1976, Rachel and her husband started traveling. They went to 39 countries and 6 continents, and once around the world. They also took 10 cruises. Some of these destinations included the Caribbean, Alaska, Canada, Hawaii, Tahiti, and the Mexican Riviera.

Rachel’s hobby and passion was sewing. It started in 5th grade. She made children’s clothes, coats, dresses, formal and bridal wear, men’s sport coats and draperies. She did this until her eye sight began to fail about 12 years ago.

Rachel’s husband passed away in 2010. She moved to River Commons in 2014. She loves it here and says it is like being on a cruise ship, with Brian as the captain and Earnie as the cruise director.

Rachel still bowls twice a week in 2 leagues. She is active in church and family activities.

Thank you, Rachel, for sharing your story with us!
