Our Trip to Casa Loma!

Casa Loma (Spanish for “Hill House”) is a Gothic Revival style mansion and garden in midtown Toronto, Ontario, Canada, that is now a historic house museum and landmark. It was constructed from 1911 to 1914 as a residence for financier Sir Henry Pellatt. The architect was E. J. Lennox, who designed several other city landmarks. Casa Loma sits at an elevation of 140 metres (460 feet) above sea level.

Due to its unique architectural character in Toronto, Casa Loma has been a popular filming location for movies and television. It is also a popular venue for wedding ceremonies, and Casa Loma can be rented in the evenings after the museum closes to the public.

In 1903, financier Henry Pellatt purchased 25 lots from developers Kertland and Rolf. Pellatt commissioned architect E. J. Lennox to design Casa Loma, with construction beginning in 1911, starting with the massive stables, potting shed and Hunting Lodge (a.k.a. coach-house) a few hundred feet north of the main building. The Hunting Lodge is a two-story 4,380-square-foot house with servants’ quarters. As soon as the stable complex was completed, Pellatt sold his summer house in Scarborough to his son and moved to the Hunting Lodge. The stables were used as a construction site for the castle (and also served as the quarters for the male servants), with some of the machinery still remaining in the rooms under the stables.

The house cost about $3.5 million and took 299 workers three years to build. Due to the start of World War I, construction was halted. At 98 rooms covering 64,700 square feet, it was the largest private residence in Canada. Notable amenities included an elevator, an oven large enough to cook an ox, two vertical passages for pipe organs, a central vacuum, two secret passages in Pellatt’s ground-floor office, a pool, and three bowling alleys in the basement (the last two were never completed).

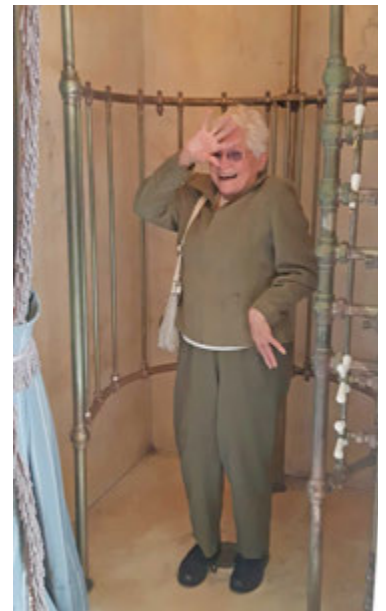

What an amazing experience walking the hallways of this historic mansion. It was hard to not be emotional at the sight of its beauty. Every room told a story of its history on why it was built and who would have used it. The third floor was full of war memorabilia and this is where emotions played a part again. When we worked our way back to the bus it was hard to not keep turning around to get just one more glimpse. A emotional but fantastic day out!

Smile!

Looking good, Al!

Our Rosewood Gardeners!

Now that fall is upon us, we must say goodbye to our beautiful gardens. Our gardening crew really outdid themselves this year. Margaret and Cameron Cochrane, Marion Gellatly and Ivy Dyer had just amazing garden boxes on the go this year. You could find a little bit of everything in our garden, from a charming flower bed that at the sight of it made you stop and smell the flowers, to different flavorful veggies. You can't beat a taste like yummy veggies fresh from the garden. One of the most important facts about our garden was that it was home to many monarch butterflies, and I am sure most of us stopped to watch those beauties scurry around.

As the summer started to end, you could find surprise bouquets around the building, bringing delight to everyone's eye. Fantastic job, Rosewood gardeners!

We also had another gardener among the crowd, Roger Pearce and his 10 foot tall sunflower. Roger decided to gather seeds from last year's sunflowers and see what he could do. Well, I don't think he was expecting the enormous sight that shaded his front patio. It also helped to shade his upstairs neighbour Betty's window. She thought it was something, so much that she came right to me so I didn't miss out in capturing this fascinating sight. Your sunflower really was the buzz around the building; way to go, Roger!

Look at the size of that sunflower! Wow, Roger!

Wow, what a beautiful garden, Marion!

Remembrance Day!

The Remembrance Day Ceremony has played a major role in remembrance since 1931. Every year, at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month, we gather in memorial parks, community halls, workplaces, schools and homes to stand in honour of all who have fallen. Together, we observe a moment of silence to mark the sacrifice of the many who have fallen in the service of their country, and to acknowledge the courage of those who still serve.

Please join us on November 11th at 10:15 a.m. for our Remembrance Day Ceremony to remember those who fought to give us what we have today!

Come and Check Out Rosewood Salon!

Hello everyone from Lou Phillips, your Rosewood Hairstylist. Although most of you already know me or have at least met me, I just wanted to give a shout-out and tell you a little bit about myself. I have resided in the town of Cobourg for about 12 years now and have grown to love our little city. Between myself and my better half Sarah, whom some of you have met, we have five children. This keeps us very busy and always having fun but not too busy to wow you with a new hairstyle or cut. I have been in the business for most of the last 20 years and truly enjoy what I do. If you haven't had the chance to come up and see Rosewood's salon, come on up, even if it is just to say hello. I am always eager to meet and chat with all of the fabulous residents of Rosewood Estates. To show my appreciation for everyone's warm welcome and making the transition so easy, I am offering $5 off any cut or style for the week of November 4th-8th. So come on up, I look forward to seeing you all soon!

Come up and say hi to Lou, Rosewood's Stylist!

Rosewood's Fall Fashion Show!

When the leaves start to turn and the temperature starts to drop, we know fall has arrived. You make your way to your closet and start pulling out all those warm clothes and cozy sweaters. Now maybe you think it's time for some new fall clothes but it's so hard to get out and shop around. Worry no more, we will bring the fall collection straight from ALIA N Tan Jay to you here at Rosewood Estates, and even have it modeled. Rosewood

Estates held its own Fall Fashion Show, featuring the fall line from ALIA N Tan Jay. Some of our fantastic ladies offered to help out by modelling this line for the other residents to see. What a great time. There was even a red carpet to strut their stuff.

After the show, we enjoyed delicious snacks and beverages from our kitchen while socializing about which outfit or outfits we liked the best. We also got to enjoy a discount at ALIA N Tan Jay so that we could get our shop on. I do have to give one more shout-out to our ladies who modeled ... fantastic job, ladies! Naturals!

Looking great, ladies!

Pumpkin Picking and More at Cricklewood Farms!

Our adventure to Cricklewood farms was exactly that: an adventure. It was a perfect fall day to be out in the pumpkin patch enjoying the crisp fresh air and sunshine. Not only did we get to pick our own pumpkins, we got to venture into the market where we had a choice of purchasing from 62 different varieties of apples. Yes, I said 62! Also, Cricklewood Farms offers two different corn mazes. If you really want to have a laugh, I suggest walking a corn maze with great company. Although we only did the mini maze, it still took us a good 20 minutes to make our way out! Getting lost and making wrong turns has never been so fun! Laughter straight from the belly could be heard, I'm sure through the whole maze. Once we finally made our way out of the maze, we collected our pumpkins and made our way to the bus. Once again, another great morning with great company!

Pumpkin picking!

Smile, Bonnie!
