Hello From Steve

It is hard to believe that Christmas and the holiday season are upon us. It is at this time of year that I am reminded of so many special memories of being with loved ones and friends and sharing in the blessings of life. One of my fondest memories each year is decorating our family's Christmas tree. Each ornament holds a special meaning and evokes wonderful thoughts. Some of them are from when both my wife and I were small children in addition to the ones our daughter has made over the years. We have also collected many that remind us of special occasions or the fun times that we shared together on vacations. Even the tree topper holds special meaning. The topper, in the shape of a star, is at least 35 years old and the original lights still work! After we are done decorating we so enjoy sitting together by the fireplace listening to holiday music and gazing at the tree.

Here at Willow Creek, we also look forward to sharing this special time of year with our residents, family members, loved ones and staff. It is wonderful listening to the residents tell about their favorite holiday memories as new memories are created.

Wishing everyone a wonderful holiday season!

A Handy Tip

Winter's cold, dry air combined with frequent hand-washing can be hard on your hands. Wash with a mild soap and warm water—not hot—and dry your hands well, then apply a thick moisturizer afterward.
