

Autumn's Here!!

October is one of my favorite months! The leaves are beginning to peak with colors of red, orange and gold and the sunlight passing through the trees on a cool autumn day makes you feel invigorated. The changing of the seasons also reminds us that each of us also undergo changes throughout our lives. Some of the changes are positive, while others may not be. However, each causes us to grow individually and hopefully become a stronger person. Without change, I think most would agree that life would become stale. In addition, change is inevitable. It never ceases to amaze me how many of our Willow Creek residents have endured loss in their lives with the utmost grace and perseverance. They have also had wonderful experiences raising families, enjoying successful careers, giving back to their communities and traveling the world. Ultimately, their inspirational stories have helped me see life's changes in a different light as well.

Have a wonderful October and embrace life's changes.
