How to Boost Cognition with Diet & Exercise

Please follow advice of your medical professional and speak with them before changing diet, exercise, or supplements. This is for informational use only.

Cognitive health is affected by genetics, age, environment, diet, and physical lifestyle, among other influences. Some factors are out of our control, but diet and exercise are within reach. Here are several approaches to diet and exercise to improve cognition.

When it comes to diets, several approaches may achieve better brain health. One is the Mediterranean Diet which includes fish, fruits, vegetables, whole grains, beans, nuts and olive oil. It aids heart and brain health, red meat ought be limited, and herbs -not salt- should flavor food.

A second is the Dietary Approaches to Stop Hypertension Diet, or the DASH Diet. It focuses on vegetables, fruits, and low-fat or fat-free dairy products. It includes whole grains, fish, poultry, beans, seeds, nuts, and vegetable oils. It encourages limited sodium, sweets, and red meat.

Another is the Mediterranean-DASH Intervention for Neurodegenerative Delay Diet, or the MIND Diet, combining Mediterranean and DASH parameters, to promote a healthy mind. It emphasizes berries over other fruits, recommends fish at least once per week, and promotes leafy vegetables along with other vegetables.

A common thread through each diet is that sugar should be avoided as much as possible. Multiple studies have found a correlation between a diet high in refined sugars and impaired brain function, as well as a worsening of mood disorder symptoms like depression.

A study of 16,000 older women over 15 years found those who consumed at least 1/2 cup of blueberries or strawberries weekly had slower cognitive decline.

10 foods on the brain health “yes” list include fish (salmon and trout especially), blueberries, cruciferous vegetables (broccoli, spinach, kale, Brussel sprouts, collard greens, cauliflower, arugula), nuts (especially walnuts), avocados, beans and lentils, eggs, seeds, whole grains (like brown rice, whole-wheat bread, quinoa, and oats), and coffee and tea.

Regular exercise may be beneficial in helping to lower Alzheimer’s and vascular dementia risk. Several studies have found a link between physical activity and reduced risk of cognitive decline.

Exercise can help prevent things that can lead to memory loss, like diabetes, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, obesity, and stroke. It may increase blood and oxygen flow in the brain - benefiting brain cells, may reduce stress hormones, and may reduce inflammation.

A diverse menu of physical activities may bring the best results, including walking regularly, tai chi, aerobic exercise, resistance training, balance and coordination exercises, weightlifting, and dancing.

We hope these ideas inspire you as they have us. Help others boost cognition and share these tips with friends and family!

 Preheat oven to 350. Mix butter + 1 cup sugar with mixer until combined. Add vanilla. In medium bowl sift flour with salt and add to the butter and flour. Mix on low until dough comes together. Dust a surface with flour and put dough on it. Shape into flat circle. Wrap in plastic and chill for 30 min. Roll dough 1/2" thick and cut with 3 by 1" rectangle cutter. Put cookies on ungreased baking sheet and top with extra sugar. Bake 20-25 min until edges start to brown. Cool to room temp.
