

Resident Engagement Idea of the Week

This Week's Idea: Wii Bowling League

Activity Director Emily Shaft is working to start an Ebenezer Wii Bowling League where sites can form teams and compete against each other. Residents at Savage Senior Living have already been getting together every Wednesday to play Wii bowling and have been having a lot of fun. The tournament will begin in March but communities can join any month. There will also be a separate "league" for Memory Care residents which will be more focused on learning how to play the game.

Community: Savage Senior Living at Fen Pointe

Instructions:

1. On the last week of the month, sites will play one "tournament game" where they will track the score of 1 Wii bowling game. Sites will then have until the end of the week to send their score to Emily Shaft.
2. Emily will then email out all community scores the following Monday, and the winner of the month will receive a golden trophy!
3. Teams will consist of 4 players, if you have more interested residents you can simply rotate which team or residents you will be tracking score of for that month.
4. Sites will have the opportunity to win the trophy every month.

*For any further questions or if your community is interested in joining, please contact Emily Shaft at eallen4@fairview.org

How It's Going: Residents at Savage Senior Living who have already been playing are having a blast! There has also already been a lot of interest from many Ebenezer sites and their residents! The hope is to join our communities together to have fun while having some friendly competition!
