RENTAL SCORING

Sunchase relies upon statistical scoring models to determine the relative financial risk of leasing an apartment to applicants. We use a third-party screening company, CoreLogic, to screen all applicants. In addition to estimating risk, rental scores are an objective and consistent way of reviewing relevant application information, and help speed the applications approval process.

- Any applicant with a score of 500 or higher is APPROVED with a most recent pay stub reflecting earnings of 3x the monthly rent.
- Any applicant with a score of 425 - 499 will be CONDITIONALLY APPROVED with an additional security deposit equal to one month's rent.
- Any applicant with a score of 424 or lower is DENIED.

Please note that other factors are also considered in addition to the Rental Score which may affect the final decision including, but not limited to, negative housing, verification of income, and unreported or false information provided on the application.

How is my rental score determined?

Rental scoring systems assign points to certain factors identified as having statistical correlation to future financial lease performance. Your rental score results from a mathematical analysis of information found in your credit report, application, and previous rental history. Such information may include your bill-paying history, the number and type of accounts you have, collection actions, outstanding debt, income, and the number of inquiries in your consumer report. The final number, or rental score, represents an estimated level of risk as compared to the performance of other consumers in a range of scores.

Because your rental score is based upon real data and statistics, it is more reliable than subjective methods of evaluating your information. Rental scoring treats all applicants consistently and impartially. Additionally, your rental score never uses certain characteristics like – race, color, sex, familial status, handicap, elderliness, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, source of funds, or religion - as factors.

Where can I have my score explained?

Should your application be denied based upon your rental score, you can learn which factors most negatively influenced your score by contacting the consumer reporting agency listed below.

Additionally, you can obtain a free copy of your consumer report, if you make the request to the consumer reporting agency within 60 days of the denial.
