Reminder about your loved one’s mail

The USPS delivers mail to our building in one big stack. Families are often residents power of attorney and want us to hold their mail for them instead of giving the mail directly to the residents.

This is absolutely fine! We are finding that the mail is really starting to pile up for some residents. We would like to ask that families have any mail that is able to be forwarded sent to your house. While we used to mail out stacks of letters to families, it was becoming too expensive and we are unable to continue to do this. When you come to see your loved one, you need to ask staff if there is any mail. They will be able to look in the Life Enrichment Coordinators office and grab it for you.

If you would like us to put the mail in your loved ones room instead of holding it please let us know next time you are in the building and we can start doing that instead.
