

FOR THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF KSIRAVO@BIZJOURNALS.COM

From the Philadelphia Business Journal:

<https://www.bizjournals.com/philadelphia/news/2020/08/26/soaring-76-private-companies-part-2-2020.html>

Soaring 76, Part 2: Meet more of Greater Philadelphia's fastest-growing private companies

Aug 26, 2020, 10:40am EDT

Soaring.

As s-words go, it's probably not the first that comes to mind for most folks at Philadelphia-area companies these days.

Terms like "struggle" and "survive" are much more likely to escape the lips of business owners grappling with the economic turmoil wrought by Covid-19.

In the midst of business restrictions and closures, it's easy to forget that Greater Philadelphia's business community was riding high before the pandemic came along. It's also more difficult to recognize that another "s" – success – still abounds. These victories may be less prominent, somewhat obscured by the current crisis and the daunting recovery work at hand, but they are both impressive and worth celebrating – perhaps now more than ever.

That's why the Philadelphia Business Journal is excited to reveal this year's Soaring 76, our annual list of the fastest-growing companies in the region. As we announce the names of these thriving companies, we hope it reminds us all that Greater Philadelphia will soon soar again.

PHILADELPHIA BUSINESS JOURNAL

The Philadelphia Business Journal's annual Soaring 76 list celebrates the fastest-growing companies in the region.

We're unveiling our 5th annual list in stages. The first 26 private companies were announced Tuesday, and below we take a look at the other 27 private companies that made the cut. Public companies will follow on Thursday.

The companies in each grouping are listed in alphabetical order. The final rankings, including this year's No. 1 fastest-growing company, will be revealed in October.

Soaring 76 is compiled from nominations of qualifying private companies, as well as Business Journal analysis of Securities and Exchange Commission filings for all public companies headquartered in the Philadelphia region. The rankings are based off revenue growth over the three-year period from 2017 through 2019.

To qualify, companies must be headquartered within one of the following counties: Berks, Bucks, Chester, Delaware, Lancaster, Lehigh, Montgomery, or Philadelphia in Pennsylvania; Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Mercer, Ocean, or Salem in New Jersey; Kent or New Castle in Delaware.

Companies must be independently-owned with no parent company and have sustained revenue growth over the identified three-year period, with at least $750,000 in revenue in 2017 and at least $2 million in revenue in 2019.

The final ranking comes from averaging the percent change in revenue from 2017 to 2018 and the percent change from 2018 to 2019.

And, now, here is the second group of 26 private companies among the 2020 Soaring 76:

Mavuno LLC – Philadelphia

MEG Glass Inc. – Doylestown

Mobile Outfitters – Philadelphia

Morgan Properties – King of Prussia

National Integrity Title Agency – Marlton, New Jersey

Neff – Philadelphia

OPS Security Group – Philadelphia

Petrelli Previtera LLC – Philadelphia

PPB Capital Partners LLC – Conshohocken

PPT Consulting – Newtown Square

Precis Engineering Inc. – Ambler

Rittenhouse Realty Advisors – Philadelphia

Spherix Global Insights – Exton
Spring EQ – Philadelphia
Spring Garden Lending – Philadelphia
Storti Quality Services LLC – Fort Washington
STP Investment Services – West Chester
STRATIS IoT – Philadelphia
SyncScript LLC – Ambler
TalentFlex Solutions LLC – Audubon
The FlexPro Group – Plymouth Meeting
The O'Connor Group – King of Prussia
Tridium Inc. – Philadelphia
Trinity Packaging Supply LLC – Voorhees Township, New Jersey
Vault Communications – Plymouth Meeting
VBC | Construction – Philadelphia
VSA Inc. – Haddonfield, New Jersey

To look back at our 2019 Soaring 76, click here.

Michael Potter

Managing Editor

Philadelphia Business Journal

