Spotlight: Alan Green

Alan Green was born Landstuhl, Germany where his father was stationed. After his father retired at Fort Lewis, Al got to settle for some years and went on to graduate in 1972 from Franklin Pierce HS in Parkland, WA. Al followed in his father's footsteps and joined the army out of high school.

Al met his wife in 1973 through his barrack buddy who set him up with a young lady named Barbara who kept correspondence with G.I.s. After a month of exchanging letters Al and Barbara got to meet, instantly fell in love, and married just a few months later. Talk about a whirlwind romance! They had 46 happy years and 3 children together. They shared a passion for poetry, which you may have already noted from the beautiful poems they've written displayed on Al's front door.

Al spent 18 years in the military finance corps and retired as staff sergeant. He then acquired his Associate Degree in Accounting and continued to work in finance. Al retired in 1990. Between his father's and his own military career Al has been all over the world! He's lived in 10 different states, France, Panama, Korea, so the man has some colorful stories.

Ask him to share some with you sometime!
