Got plans to travel to a tropical location? Take your experience to the next level by getting your scuba diving certification before you go. Scott at Liberty Point says that "Dive Addicts is the best place to learn how to scuba dive in Utah. I've taken classes from different dive shops around Utah and can definitively say that Dive Addicts prioritizes the quality of their instruction more than any other shop. Their instructors are all top notch and the shop has everything you need with helpful, experienced staff to help you find the equipment and training best suited to you and your needs."

Shop Small, Support Local

In addition to farmers markets, check out these markets that sell items from local artisans and businesses.
