words in the English language."*

Dog of the Month – Doberman Pinscher

The Doberman pinscher is also called a Doberman, Dobie, or Dobe. This fearless, agile, and powerful breed was developed in Germany as a working dog at the end of the 19th century. These dogs have a short coat that comes in a range of colors, including brown, fawn, red, and black. Dobies are renowned for their grace, intelligence, and loyalty. They make good pets, watchdogs, and service animals, and are often used by the police and military. In fact, Dobermans served in both WWI and WWII, helping to guard soldiers and sniff out mines. They also participate in military drill teams. While it's understandable to be a bit wary of these formidable dogs, they are actually quite sweet, gentle, and loving. Doberman pinschers do best in moderate climates. With their short hair and low body fat content, they do not do well in the cold or rain. Additionally, their dark fur makes them prone to overheating on hot days.

Flower – Gladiolus

Gladiolus are August's flower. This lovely flower represents strength and integrity—not surprising when you consider that its name comes from the Latin word for sword, gladius. While its sword-shaped stems might imply Roman gladiators, its romantic flowers are capable of piercing a heart with their beauty. This might be why infatuation is another of this flower's meanings. Gladiolus, or "glads" as they are commonly called, come in a range of colors and sizes, making them a versatile mainstay in floral bouquets.

Birthstone – Peridot

In 1912, the American National Association of Jewelers adopted the peridot as the official birthstone for August. The pronunciation of this gem is often confused: it is correctly pronounced PAIR-uh-doh, not PAIR-uh-dot. Peridot is a green gemstone that is as popular today as it was in the past. It has been found in ruins of ancient Egypt and Greece. It was often called the "evening emerald" by ancient Romans, who noticed that its green color shone even more vividly in lamplight, resembling deep-green emeralds.
