Web Browser Cookies:

Cookies are basically text files that are transferred by site (or service providers) to your hard drive through the web browser you use to access the website. These cookies are not harmful to your computer and are stored to capture some important information that helps us understand, remember and save your preferences for the future visits. No personal information is collected or affected by these cookies.

You reserve the right to refuse cookies; however, some website sections may not work properly. The cookies do not cause any interruption in your browsing behavior. You can change those configurations on your computer if you desire. By changing your preferences, you can accept all cookies, you can be notified when a cookie is set, or you can reject all cookies. If you do so and cookies are disabled, you may be required to re-enter your information more often and certain features of our site may be unavailable.

Security:

We employ commercially reasonable and current security methods to prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure correct use of information. Your account information and profile are password-protected. We recommend that you do not divulge your password to anyone. Our personnel will never ask you for your password in an unsolicited phone call or in an unsolicited e-mail. Remember to sign out of your account and close your browser window when you have finished your session. This is to help ensure that others cannot access your personal information and correspondence if you share a computer with someone else or are using a computer in a public place where others may have access to it. Whenever you voluntarily disclose personal information online, for example on message boards, through e-mail or in chat areas, that information can be collected and used by others. No data transmission over the Internet or any wireless network can be guaranteed to be perfectly secure. As a result, while we try to protect your personal information, we cannot ensure or guarantee the security of any information you transmit to us, and you do so at your own risk.

Children Under 13:

Our Website is intended to be used by customers that can form enforceable contracts with us, generally at least 18 years of age. We do not knowingly collect personally-identifiable information on children under the age of 13. We do not accept self storage tenants under the age of 18, and we will terminate the accounts of underage users. However, we have no way of distinguishing the age of individuals who access our Website, and we will honor the requests by any minor under the age of 13 to remove the information he or she posted as a registered user, unless the information is posted anonymously or by third parties or otherwise exempted by law. The parent or guardian of any registered user under the age of 13 may also contact us in writing and provide a contact email or phone number to remove the personally-identifiable information of the user and opt out of promotional opportunities.

Third Party Practices:

The Privacy Policy of an advertiser or promotional service appearing at our site may differ from ours. We encourage you to read that policy before responding to any offer.

Changes to Our Policy:

We may change or update this Privacy Policy at any time without any prior notice. If we change this Privacy Policy in an adverse and material way, we will post or otherwise provide notice advising of such change.

Your Consent:

By using our Website, you are consenting to the collection and use of this information in the manner we describe.

Push Notifications:

If you utilize the site or mobile app, you might also permit push notifications, SMS, updates, e-mails, or other forms of mail messages specifically delivered to you outside or within the phone app to the cellular device or PC browser. Should you authorize your permission to get these kinds of emails a device token will likely be provided that should be related to the device you use.

California Residents: How You Can Update, Correct or Delete Your Information:

You can access the information that we collect online and maintain through normal updating methods. To update, correct or delete this information, you can contact us at: admin@cmstorage.net (email) or 360-750-9373 (phone). Your online account can be deleted or deactivated, but doing so will result in your not being able to access member service. During your stay as a tenant, we will continue to share your personal information among our business units, our affiliates, and unaffiliated third parties as necessary in order to service your accounts and fill any orders you place with us. We will also store your personal information gathered in connection of the rental of your storage space as required by law or prudent business practices.
