Director's Corner

When I was in grade school, I used to read a book collection called Choose Your Own Adventure. In these books you, the reader, were ultimately responsible for deciding the outcome of the plot. You would read a chapter and at the end of each chapter you would get the choice of going down one of two paths. Whichever path you chose you would turn the page to a new chapter and get to explore the aftereffects of your previous decision. Sometimes the conclusion was favorable. Other times, turmoil for the character.

Your perception is your reality. Have you ever had a day where the sun is shining, people are smiling, and good luck seems to be landing in everyone's lap except for yours? When this happens, it's not that the world is working against you and that you are the victim of some kind of mass conspiracy.

Even when unforeseen circumstances are at your door, you have the decision-making power to generate a positive outcome for yourself.

Every experience is our very own opportunity to choose the path in our story. It's all in how we accept or reject the "gifts" of experiences that are presented to us.

Resident Spotlight: Mary Lou Vinzenz

Meet Mary Lou!

Mary Lou was born in Boulder, Colorado on November 11th, 1941. She went to school in California until high school, and then returned to Colorado afterwards. Mary Lou was able to celebrate 63 years of marriage with her late husband, Dick. Mary Lou worked for the United States Postal Service, became Postmaster in 1971, and retired working there after 27 years of service. They then left Colorado in search of their perfect place to retire. They went to Texas, Nebraska, and Washington before settling on Lake Havasu City, Arizona. What drew them to this town was the beautiful weather and nice people, so much so that they have been here now for 28 years. Mary Lou got her real estate license in 2001 and was able to pursue that career for 16 years until she retired at age 75. She had two children, Nancy (deceased in 2020) and Dale, who recently visited The Views from Wyoming. She also has 6 grandchildren, and 5 great-grandchildren with one more on the way! Mary Lou likes to do crafts, play cards, and she loves people! So, if you see Mary Lou, say hello!
