Letter From Administrator

Happy Home Health Month! Each November, we observe National Home Health Month, a time to celebrate the compassionate professionals who bring care, comfort, and healing into the homes of patients and their families. This month is dedicated to recognizing the outstanding efforts of home health professionals—nurses, therapists and therapy assistants, aides, and administrative staff—who provide essential care that empowers individuals to recover, thrive, and maintain independence in the comfort of their own homes.

At Transitions at Home, we are fortunate to have an outstanding team of dedicated professionals who go above and beyond every day. Their commitment to quality care reflects the very heart of home health services. Our North Team got together for a Breakfast Potluck and our Central Team celebrated with a Waffle buffet to celebrate National Home Health Month. To our incredible team: Thank you for all that you do!

Welcome to Our Team: Mark V.

We are thrilled to welcome Mark V. to our team as a Physical Therapist! With over 30 years of experience in outpatient, inpatient, home health, hospice, and long-term care settings, Mark brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to our patients and team.

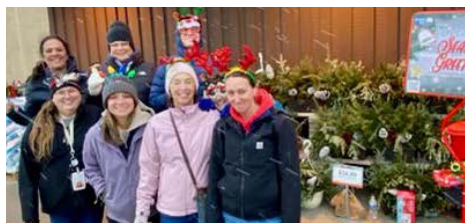

Mark is passionate about providing high-quality, compassionate care and is eager to collaborate with our team to help patients thrive in the comfort of their homes. Outside of work, Mark enjoys spending time in the great outdoors. You can often find him hunting, fishing, hiking, capturing beautiful moments through photography, or gliding through the snow while cross-country skiing.

Ringling The Bells

We are proud to announce that our Central Team recently took part in ringing the bells for The Salvation Army's annual holiday campaign!

It was a heartwarming experience to come together for a good cause and help spread some holiday cheer. By participating, we've supported The Salvation Army's efforts to provide critical services and resources to individuals and families in need during this season.

Handing Out Halloween Candy

Nicole, Ellie, and Tracy celebrated Halloween and passed out candy to trick or treaters who visited our office in The Dove Healthcare Business Center.
